Malone Headed To Federal Government's Health and Human Services (HHS)

Accepts Senior Advisor on Human Trafficking Position in Washington, D.C.

Kevin Malone, a former Major League Baseball Executive for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Co-Founder and CEO of the United States Institute Against Human Trafficking (USIAHT) and also the Founder and CEO of Kids NOT For Sale is joining HHS in Washington, D.C. to help fight human trafficking.

Malone stated, "I am truly humbled and honored to have the unique opportunity to serve our country by working to prevent human trafficking, and to be a dedicated part in helping to provide the services needed to the victims that have suffered from this horrendous evil."

Oree Freeman, a trafficked survivor and thriver will assume many of the leadership responsibilities and duties as the USIAHT Director of Operations. Oree's mission is to be a voice and a fighter for all victims of sex trafficking. She has devoted her career to combating sex trafficking by establishing AWARENESS, spreading HOPE and helping others find RESILIENCE within themselves. Thousands have benefited through the interactive training Oree conducts for law enforcement officers and professionals from various child-serving sectors.
